Mrs. Frank Jurecska Receives Thanks from Ike for Birthday Scarf

MRS. FRANK JURECSKA is a happy woman these days. Some time back she sent a scarf to President Eisenhower. It was a scarf with reindeer design that she made herself and when worn her a blue ribbon at the county fair.

She wanted to send it to Mr. Eisenhower as a birthday present and she did it.

Well, on Tuesday she received a reply on White House stationery, from Denver, Colorado, where the President is a patient.

Here is the reply:
"Dear Mrs. Jurecska:
"The President is deeply appreciative of your kindness in sending him the reindeer scarf as a birthday gift. Much as he would like to thank you personally, the doctors have forbidden him to do so. He asked me, therefore, to express to you his warm and sincere gratitude for your thought of him.
"Sincerely,
"Ann C. Whitman,
"Personal Secretary
To the President"

"I just wanted to send the President a birthday gift and sent him the scarf," Mrs. Jurecska declared. "This country of ours is wonderful and I wanted to express my appreciation in a small way."

Mr. and Mrs. Jurecska reside on Harrisburg Route 1 a short distance west of town. They both were born in Hungary. Mrs. Jurecska came to this country in 1909. She and Mr. Jurecska were married in Pennsylvania.

IT HAPPENED HERE: It was reported to this department by one of our sleuths that Buck Russler was teaching his class of small boys at the Methodist Bible school the other Sunday and entered a discussion about the Prophets.

"Do all of you know what a prophet is?" he asked. "Webb," he said to Webb Gaskins, "tell us what one is."

"If you buy something for a doll."

Two Eldorado Youths Admit Auto Thefts; To Question Two Others

Two Eldorado youths, already on probation, have admitted their parts in the thefts of three automobiles and two other youths living in Eldorado are to be questioned in the crimes, Sheriff William T. Barrett said today.

In statements made to Barrett and State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson, Sammy Fleming, 16, and Bill Clark, 15, have confessed stealing two automobiles in Harrisburg, one in Eldorado, to stealing gasoline at two different places and trying to steal it at a service station on two occasions.

The names of the two boys to be apprehended for questioning have not yet been revealed.

Fleming and Clark admitted to the officers that on Oct. 6, they and a third youth stole a 1950 Buick from the Burnett Motor Sales used car lot in Eldorado. They said they drove it to Broughon and had started back when they encountered mechanical difficulties. They abandoned the machine.

On Oct. 12 the same trio, Fleming and Clark said, stole a black 1949 Chevrolet from the Saline Motor Co. used car lot in Harrisburg. They drove around awhile, then went to the Murphy service station on Route 142 near Eldorado where they broke a lock off a gasoline pump in an unsuccessful effort to steal gasoline. They then abandoned the auto near Stinson's grocery store, just a

Says Passed By Fatal Wreck En Route to Raid

Charges Cars Went By Without Offer to Help

MARION, Ill. — The sheriff of Williamson County in southern Illinois is "sore" at the state police.

Sheriff Carl Miller said today he has protested the fact that state patrolmen passed a fatal accident on their way to a gambling raid 11 days ago. Miller referred to a collision between two cars north of here that killed two men Oct. 16.

The Williamson County sheriff said Deputy Sheriff Ora Collard and two Marion city policemen were trying to control traffic and summon ambulances and wreckers when the state police went by.

"The state police drove right through the wreck zone without stopping to ask if they could help and bodies were lying on the highway," Miller said.

He said he sent a letter last week to Elmer Hoffman, secretary of the Illinois Sheriff's Assn., protesting the state police behavior.

Miller said the patrolmen returned to the wreck scene about 45 minutes later after raiding the Mariners Club near Johnston City where they picked up nine slot machines.

"I have no objection to state police making gambling raids in my county but is picking up a slot machine more important than a person's life?" Miller said. "I think their first job should be handling traffic."

Other state police raided Crespi's Tavern and Ma Hatchett's Place in Colp in Williamson County and several places in Alexander County the same night. Gambling and vice charges were filed as a result of the raids.

Miller said he had checked several places in the county a few days before the raids and had not found signs of gambling or vice. He said he had never received any complaints from Williamson County residents about gambling or vice in the county.

TO MENTION COMPLAINT TO GOV. STRATTON

SPRINGFIELD — Elmer Hoffman, secretary of the Illinois Sheriff's Assn., today carried to Gov. William G. Stratton a complaint that state police passed by a fatal accident near Marion Oct. 16 on their way to a gambling raid.

Hoffman, waiting to see the governor on another matter, said he would "mention" the letter of complaint from Williamson County Sheriff Carl Miller. He said he expected "there might a little change in policy" in such cases.

Hoffman said if Miller's complaint is correct, "I think the state police made a bad mistake. Human lives certainly come before slot machines."

He said he did not intend to see State Police Chief Phil M. Brown on the matter, but might talk to Brown's superior, Public Safety Director Joseph D. Bibb, "depending on the outcome" of his talk with Stratton.

Seeks Ex-Mate in Wife-Swapping Deal To Tell Him of Daughter's Death

CHESTERTON, Ind. — Mrs. Phyllis Heller, who joined another woman in swapping husbands, tried to find her ex-mate today to tell him that their 7-year-old daughter is dead.

The girl, Karen Johnson, died in Granite City, Ill., Monday while the re-shuffled couples were traveling by separate routes to honeymoon in California.

Last summer they spent a vacation together in California and apparently came to a decision. On Aug. 15, both wives filed for divorce suits in Valparaiso, Ind., on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Last week, on Oct. 18, the divorces were granted. On Oct. 19 the wives married the husbands of their best friends in a double ceremony at Michigan City, Ind.

The newlyweds left Saturday to start new lives in California. Johnson, 36, departed first with his 36-year-old wife and her four children. Heller, 36, left an hour later with his 29-year-old bride, Karen, and 3-year-old Christine.

They were bound for San Diego until Karen's death ended their honeymoon.

Author with Anti-American Views Awarded Nobel Prize for Literature

STOCKHOLM (U.P.) — Author Halldor Kiljan Laxness of Iceland, a onetime monk known for his anti-American views, today won the 1955 Nobel Prize for literature.

The 18-member Swedish Academy awarded him the tax-free cash award of $36,720 and the plaque that goes with it for his sensitive novels of the little man in the cold mountain wastelands of Iceland.

The 53-year-old Laxness, is a winner of the Stalin Prize, and this fact was believed to have weighed against him during the eight years he was considered for the Nobel award.

Laxness, born Halldor Gundjónsson, lived for three years in the United States but left in 1930 after a public clamor against him.

American novelist Ernest Hemingway won out over Laxness last year.

Laxness, who terms himself an "idealistic socialist," has publicly deplored the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which includes Iceland.

No Evidence of Fraud in Navy Jets, Hearing Chairman Says

WASHINGTON — Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) said today he has found no evidence of "fraud or improper action" in the purchase of underpowered jet fighters which the Navy said probably will never be flown.

Holifield is chairman of a government operations subcommittee investigating the Navy's purchase of 60 McDonnell Demons and 107 J40 engines to power them. He told newsmen as the group concluded its hearings that "any mistakes made were made honestly" under pressure of the Korean War.

"Undoubtedly there was waste in this program, as there is in any program of development of a new plane or weapon," Holifield said. "I can't say yet whether there was an undue amount of waste."

The 60 were built at the McDonnell Aircraft Corp., St. Louis, and powered with J40 engines built by Westinghouse Electric.

Four of the McDonnell-built planes now have been refitted with a more powerful engine. Five have crashed. Rear Adm. James S. Russell, chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, testified today that the remaining 51 ordered grounded last June will remain grounded unless an emergency develops that would warrant a 28-million-dollar outlay to equip them with a new and more powerful engine.

Russell appeared for a final

Noah Hendrix, 77, Dies at Eldorado

Noah Hendrix, 77, who resided south of Eldorado, died in the Ferrer hospital at 9:50 last night.

He leaves his wife, Mabel, and the following children: Gratton, John, Chester, Mrs. Ewing Allen, all of East Alton, Mrs. Marshall Wiggins, Eldorado, Mrs. Joe Pritchett, Cottonwood, and Charlotte and Melvin at home. Also two brothers, Jerry of Piggott, Ark., and Cletus of Denny, Calif.; 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Wolf Creek church. Elder T. Leo Dodd will conduct the service and interment will be in Wolf Creek Cemetery.

The body lies in state at the Eldorado funeral home.

He has said he is without particular leanings toward Russia, but has been a favorite in the Communist literary world. Many of his earlier writings attacked life in the United States.

Runnersup to Laxness were believed to have been French poet St. John Perse, Icelandic moralist Gunnar Gunnarsson, and exiled Greek novelist Nikos Kazantzakis. Laxness wrote eight novels, but only one, "Independent People," was published in the United States. It was about Icelandic cottage farmers and was a Book-of-the-month Club selection five years ago.

The author has been in hot water with U. S. immigration authorities. He first tried to enter the United States in 1922. Ordered back to Denmark, he embraced Catholicism and entered a Belgian monastery as a monk. He left one year later to resume writing poetry, short stories and novels. He married twice.

round of questioning as a House government operations subcommittee moved toward a windup of its public inquiry into the Navy's purchase of 60 McDonnell Demons equipped with Westinghouse J40 engines—a combination that turned out unsatisfactory.

The Navy said that from hindsight the purchase program could be termed "a mistake." But it saved time by permitting test flights of the Demon airplane pending development of a more powerful engine, the Navy said. The Navy had hoped to use the planes for squadron training, but they were grounded last June after five were destroyed in test flight crashes in which three pilots were killed.

West to Offer Peace Plan for German Unity

Middle East and French Crisis Add
New Problems

GENEVA — The Big Four foreign ministers met today for an "acid test" conference, with the West geared to offer Russia a challenging peace package in return for a reunited Germany.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was to take the initiative for the Western Big Three. But it was feared Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov would try to stall and bloc the West's move.

Dulles, Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay met in the butter-colored Palais des Nations in the first of a series of sessions designed to keep the world on the road to peace against a background of threatened war in the Middle East.

The question of European security and German unity was the first item on the conference agenda. But the Middle East and a new crisis in France added possible new trouble to the discussion.

Israel Asks Arms

Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett arrived here from Paris to press his demands for Western guarantees of his nation's frontiers and to ask for arms to match the Communist supply of weapons to Egypt.

Meanwhile, Pinay disclosed that he will fly back to Paris Friday to await the outcome of a vote of confidence test in the French National Assembly. Its result will determine whether he returns to Geneva with new power to negotiate for France, or merely as an observer without authority.

The West offered the Soviets a peace package of security and disarmament in exchange for the reunification of Germany. The move was the acid test of Soviet peace desires and Moscow's continued support of the friendly "spirit of Geneva."

The West planned to move first and fast. Its views were contained in a nine-page document drawn up beforehand and backed fully by the entire North Atlantic alliance membership.

The package plan called for:

1. The reunification of Germany by free elections.
2. An offer to Russia, in return, of solemn non-aggression guarantees, as a means of calming any legitimate Soviet fears for security.

Authoritative sources said the West is prepared to go even further once Germany is again unified. It would consider a general European security pact that would include the Soviet satellites as well.

O'Mahoney Says GOP Vainly Seeks Glamour Candidate

WASHINGTON — Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney said today the Republicans are searching vainly for a "glamour candidate" to replace President Eisenhower and "conceal" a party split.

The Wyoming Democrat told a reporter that the Democrats will nominate a man "whose purpose is to serve all segments of our society."

O'Mahoney said that "the Republican National committee is now engaged in a search for a glamour candidate who can conceal the basic division between the followers of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft and former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey."

"But I don't see where they can find one," O'Mahoney continued. "They can't find anyone now to conceal the fact that the Republicans who occupy the seats of power are representatives of concentrated business."

O'Mahoney did not designate his choice of Democratic candidates, though in appraising them he mentioned only Adlai E. Stevenson and New York Gov. Averell Harriman.

Benson Says Politicians Exaggerate Farm Plight; Believes Program Sound

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today politicians are exaggerating the plight of the nation's farmers.

Benson, central figure in the controversy about farm policies, declining farm income, prices of farm produce, and the new pork purchase program, asserted that politicians are deliberately kicking up a storm without cause.

"The farm program now in operation is the result of a year's study and was adopted on a bipartisan basis," Benson said in an interview with United Press. "A farm program should not serve partisan political purposes."

"Yet a determined effort is underway to paint the picture blacker than it really is."

Not Helping Farmers

"Some politicians are not helping farmers much by their comments."

He answered with a grin only when asked if he thought those persons who advocate a return to 90 per cent of parity price supports should shut up. Advocates of 90 per cent of parity say it would jack up farm income.

Criticism of the administration's farm program has been severe. Benson has been pressured by high ranking politicians of both parties, farmers and farm groups in the Midwest, and others to do something about the economic situation of farmers.

An indication of the severity of the pressure was the announcement late Wednesday that Benson had cancelled a trip to Europe. He had planned to leave next month to make a personal on-the-spot study of markets for U. S. surplus commodities in Europe and also was to deliver a speech before the Food and Agricultural Organizations of the United Nations in Rome.

Convinced Program Is Sound

Benson is convinced the farm program is sound.

He is convinced the present flexible support policy is correct and that farmers realize its correctness. He thinks the voters next year will agree to its soundness.

Church Head Blasts Romance By Margaret

LONDON — The head of the British Methodist Church said today Princess Margaret's romance with divorced Peter Townsend was shaking the foundations of Christian marriage.

Dr. Leslie Weatherhead, president of the British Methodist Conference, said that even if the princess renounced her royal role, "her example does not make it easier to uphold the ideal of Christian marriage."

For the first time Britain was showing open impatience with the couple's steady dating in the face of stony silence in official quarters on whether they wish to marry.

Referring to the throne, the Manchester Guardian declared in an editorial: "Olympus, we may as well admit, has been shaken."

Weatherhead heads the largest Protestant denomination in Britain outside the Church of England, which has strongly reaffirmed its opposition to the marriage of divorced persons through its primate, the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Some of the wide support for the Margaret - Townsend match appeared to be giving way to second thoughts as the constitutional and religious implications were debated in public.

The Manchester Guardian had already given its support to the marriage and even made the almost unheard-of suggestion that in a modern democracy, Townsend, a commoner, had just as much right as someone of royal blood to be a queen's consort.

The Guardian criticized sensational press coverage of the affair but admitted that "the royal family's 'public relations' have been very badly mishandled and that a great deal of the unpleasant invasion of personal privacy has come because of the ineptitude of the royal advisers."

Social Security Manager Explains Retirement Test

"How much can I earn and get all my Social Security payments?" is the most frequent question asked by persons of retirement age, according to E. Bishop Hill, district manager of the Harrisburg Social Security office. Many employers call with the same question, so advice can be given to their employees who work part time.

Anyone who is 72 years of age or over can receive benefits for all months regardless of how much is earned. For the worker who is under age 72, earnings for the entire year must be considered. If the earnings are $1200 or less, payment can be made for all months. Where earnings exceed $1200, one month's benefit must be withheld for each $80 or fraction of $80 over the $1200. For example, a man who earned $1281 in a year and worked all months would have 10 months benefits payable. The first additional $80 would eliminate one payment and the $1 would eliminate the second. One who works in all months and earns over $2080 will receive no payments for the year. On the other hand, benefits are payable for all months in which no more than $80 is earned regardless of total yearly earnings.

"Old-age or survivor beneficiaries who earn $1200 a year or less or who became 72 years old before February of this year, need not concern themselves with the retirement test," Mr. Hill said, "but for all others a complete understanding is very important." The best way to get that understanding, he suggested, is to visit the Social Security District office. Those who cannot conveniently call in person, may request Fact Sheet No. 3 by mail.

To Discontinue Sale Of Government-Owned Corn to Exporters

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department said today it temporarily will discontinue sale of government-owned corn to exporters as soon as outstanding commitments have been fulfilled. The government now is moving 10 million bushels of corn from midwestern storage bins to the East Coast to fulfill export orders. "As soon as that is done," a Commodity Credit Corp. official said, "we will stop sale of government corn to exporters for the time being."

The official said the government would halt export sales of its stored corn so as not to interfere with sale of corn now being harvested.

GOP Legislator Blasts Benson Farm Program

BROOKINGS, S. D. — The Senate Agriculture committee was greeted today by a new blast at the Eisenhower administration's farm program from a Republican farmer-legislator.

State Sen. Harold Golseth of Erwin, S. D., who is also vice president of the state Farmer's Union, told the committee in a prepared statement, "We are definitely opposed to any type of sliding scale price supports."

That was a reference to the administration's flexible farm program under which five major crops are supported this year between $2 1/2 and 90 per cent of the "fair income" parity level. The range next year will be 75-90 per cent.

Golseth also delivered what his friends conceded was intended as a slap at GOP Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson. He said the administration of any farm program is as important as the program itself.

Urges Rigid Supports

The GOP legislator testified at the fourth of a series of "grass roots" hearings mapped by the committee to gather advice from farmers before writing a new farm bill next year. Another session is scheduled Friday at Minot, N. D.

Golseth urged the senators to approve a House-passed bill restoring the old Democratic program of rigid, 90 per cent of parity for the family farm or ranch. Golseth, like nearly all of 150 farmer witnesses interviewed by the committee in three previous Midwest hearings this week, also endorsed a government land rental program. Such a program would provide federal "rent" subsidies to farmers who put surplus-producing crop land into grasses or other conservation crops under contract with the government.

Miss Shirlee Rae Crain, James Michael Guard Married Oct. 22 at West Frankfort

Mr. and Mrs. James Michael Guard

The First Methodist church in West Frankfort was the scene Saturday evening, Oct. 22, for the lovely fall wedding of Miss Shirlee Rae Crain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Crain, 1208 East Indell street in West Frankfort, and James Michael Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meart Guard of this city.

Dr. Frank E. Harris, church pastor, officiated at the 8 o'clock double ring candlelight ceremony before more than four hundred relatives and friends of the nuptial pair.

Bronze and yellow mums in tall standards, palms and ferns were arranged on the church altar complementing the archway of white wrought iron, interlaced with the time flowers and a kneeling bench in front of the church dais. Family pews, marked with large bronze and yellow satin ribbon bows, tied with the greenery.

Miss Colleen Patton presented a medley of wedding music and accompanied on the organ Miss Marion Rains who sang "Because," "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer" to conclude the nuptial rites.

Miss Glenda Chance of West Frankfort was bridesmaid, Jane Hutchinson of Carlyle, the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid, and Miss Judy Redfearn of West Frankfort was maid of honor.

David Guard served as his brother's best man. James McKee of Centralia and Kenneth Horning were groomsmen, and seating the guests were John Mowery of Carmin, Terry Lockman, West Frankfort, and Harold Lee Guard, cousin of the bridegroom.

Little Randy Hutchinson, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Escorted by her father who gave her in marriage the bride was beautifully gowned in Rosepointe on Chantilly lace. The bodice featured a square scalloped neckline, double pleated flounce back tulle butterfly skirt, converted to pick up a net-over-satin slip. Her chapel train was of Rosepointe and Chantilly lace and she carried a white Bible topped with a bridal bouquet of stephanotis, centered with a white orchid, tied with white ribbon satin streamers, knotted with stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

The colors of bronze and yellow were continued in the gowns worn by the bride's attendants. Miss Chance and Miss Hutchinson's gowns were fashioned of gold colored cloth and Miss Redfearn's, burnt orange. The gowns were designed with scoop necklines, fitted bodices and of ballerina length in crystal. Miss Redfearn carried a cascading bouquet of bronze mums. Miss Chance's and Miss Hutchinson's bouquets were of yellow poinsettias.

Mrs. Crain, mother of the bride, chose a bluestone sheath dress of pure silk, fashioned with a V-neckline, trimmed with bow and rhinestone pin, complemented with mauve and pink accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of pink rosebuds.

A reception was held in the church lower auditorium following the ceremony. The gold and bronze colors were continued in a miniature corsage which topped the beautifully adorned three tiered wedding cake. Scallops of ivory draped the table front. Miss Helen Collins, Miss LaDon Edwards and Mrs. Mary Jo Smith served cake and punch. Mrs. Mark Hutchinson, the bride's sister, registered the guests.

Mrs. Guard is a graduate of Frankfort Community high school and attended two years at Southern Illinois university, Carbondale.

The bridegroom was graduated from SIU last June and is employed as equipment engineer by the Western Electric company in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Guard left after the reception for Chicago. For traveling she wore a Paris blue and black sheath dress, with short black coat, black accessories and the orchid corsage from her bouquet. They will reside at 5440 North Melvina, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wade and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Swinburn, the bride's uncles and aunts, entertained at the rehearsal dinner last Friday evening at Franklin County Country club for 30 members of the bridal party and immediate relatives. The color theme of bronze, yellow and green was carried out in the decorations of the beautifully appointed tables. Shirlee and her fiance presented gifts to their attendants. Shirlee's gift to her husband-to-be was engraved cuff links.

Mrs. Charles Farrar Speaks To Saline Garden Club

The Saline County Garden club met with Mrs. R. D. Brown Sr., 325 East Church, on the afternoon of Tuesday, Oct. 25.

Fall flowers from Mrs. Brown's garden were supplemented by two beautiful arrangements brought by Mrs. Michael Reshelter.

Mrs. S. M. Farrar presided at the business session and she made a report on the semi-annual meeting of the State Garden club held recently at Carbondale and attended by a group of Harrisburg club members.

Mrs. L. B. Kimmel introduced Mrs. Ed Gaskins who spoke on "Only Young Folks Make Love in October." This proved to be an interesting account of the mating season of young quail, as observed by the writer. The guest speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Charles O. Farrar who chose as her subject "The Romance of Tea." She told many interesting things from the time of its first known use in China and the formality attending the drinking of tea in that country. She also spoke of the first tea having been brought to Europe by the early Dutch traders and how it has come down through the ages to the beverage we have today used in many lands throughout the world.

Mrs. Farrar was presented with a tall bud vase as a token of appreciation of her talk to the club. During the social hour following the meeting Mrs. Hubert Hawkins, Mrs. LeRoy Reese and Mrs. J. H. Lavender, assisted Mrs. Brown in serving cranberry tea and small cakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Driskell and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Ragsdale were in Springfield this week attending the A. S. C. Conference for two days session. While there they stayed at the St. Nicholas hotel and en route home they visited the McKendree college where Miss Ann Ragsdale is a student. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Ragsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Guadagnoli, El Paso, Tex., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wirth Sr. She is the former Zada Lou Wirth of this city.

GM Nears Billion Dollar Profits

NEW YORK — General Motors Corp., earning more during the first nine months of 1955 than any corporation in history has ever earned in a full year, seemed well on its way today toward a billion dollar net profit year.

The giant firm's nine month sales report, issued Wednesday, said its sales for 1955 already have amounted to $9,607,875,772 and its net income for the three-quarter period was $912,887,537. The previous year's net income record was $834,044,039, set in 1950.

The total sales figure for the first nine months of 1955 was nearly as great as the record sales figure of $9,823,529,000 for all of 1954. With the company entering full scale production, GM seemed certain to top the 10-billion-dollar sales mark this year.

Four Children Suffocate in Fire

SAGINAW, Mich. — Four children suffocated in their smoke-filled basement apartment Wednesday night while their mother was out meeting two other children she had sent to a store.

Mrs. Estelle McGlothlin, 25, saw smoke pouring from the apartment when she returned with the other two children. She said she repeatedly tried to enter the building. But each time she said she was driven back by the thick smoke.

When firemen arrived they found the four children dead from asphyxiation. They were Danny, 10; Billie Ray, 2; Debra, 14 months, and Willie Earl, 3. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Inmates Decline At Vandalia

SPRINGFIELD — The daily average number of inmates at state penal institutions continued to rise during September, except for a decline in the number of admissions to Vandalia State Prison Farm.

The Public Safety department said Wednesday the daily average inmate census at all state institutions was 273 lower in September than in the same month a year ago because of the drop in the number of misdemeanor offenders admitted at Vandalia.

The average daily census at the three branches of the State Penitentiary was up 112, and up 39 at the State Reformatory for Women.

Daley Denies Powell Hint of Rumored 'Deal'

CHICAGO — Mayor Richard J. Daley has issued an angry denial of State Rep. Paul Powell's hint of a rumored "deal" between him and Gov. William G. Stratton. Daley used blistering terms Thursday in commenting on any statements that he had made an agreement to insure the Republican governor's reelection.

"Such speculation is an insult to both Gov. Stratton and myself," Daley told a news conference. "It could only come from a distorted, twisted, polluted, vicious and proselytized mind which sees evil in everything a public official does."

"It's about time the people started to have respect for men in public life and that public servants should be able to serve without having their every action interpreted as wrong-doing."

Powell, former Democratic House speaker from Vienna, had brought up the subject at a Springfield meeting of downstate Democratic county chairmen.

Powell said "downstate Democrats will have no part of any deal between Cook County leaders and Gov. Stratton in 1956. If they do, I'll be the first to take a gun and run them out of the state. They don't belong to the Democratic Party. But the rumor is out."

Daley said at his news conference that "everybody knows" the purpose of conferences with Stratton in Springfield was to "help the city obtain its vital needs in city services."

Report Flier Bails From Plane; No Aircraft Missing

CARROLLTON, Ill. — Witnesses reported seeing a man bailing out of a plane Wednesday, but the Air Force reported none of its aircraft is missing.

Greene County Sheriff Fred Ballard said three persons in this southwestern Illinois area told him they saw a man jump from a plane north of here.

The pilot's "parachute was trailing behind him and didn't open," the sheriff said he was told by Terry Hettelle, a service station operator.

But Scott Air Force Base, Champaign Field, and O'Hare Field Air Force spokesmen all reported none of their planes was missing. "Something like a small balloon" was reported falling from the sky by residents of Pike County, which is northwest of here.

First county health department in the United States was established in Guilford County, North Carolina, on June 1, 1911.

CAROLYN ANDERSON PARKS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Anderson, 311 West South, Harrisburg, was elected as a member of the Queen's Court for the Homecoming activities at Illinois college, Jacksonville, Oct. 22. Mrs. Parks, a member of the Junior class, is a member of Gamma Delta literary society, the Inter-Society board, the Disciplinary committee and the Crampton Dorm council. In the past she has been treasurer of ICAW and a member of the Social committee. She is majoring in history and is preparing to teach.

Second Polio Vaccine Shots Soon by Egyptian Health Dept.

The Egyptian Health department announces that inoculations for the second dose of polio vaccine in Saline and White counties will be started in the near future. Norris City and Gallatin county children have already received this second inoculation.

Only children who received the first inoculation in April 1955 will be eligible. These programs will be conducted in the same method and at the same centers as they were for the first inoculations. Consent slips for every child are on file at the Health department offices so no additional consent slips or literature will be needed.

Within the next few days each teacher will receive a letter stating the time, place, and a list of the students eligible to receive the second inoculation. Watch The Register for future announcements.

Carrier Mills Grade School Teams Win Two from Brownsville

Carrier Mills grade school won two basketball games from Brownsville Wednesday. The games were played on the winner-take-all basis.

In the "B" game Carrier Mills won 45-18 and in the main game the score was 78-56.

At the half time Carrier Mills held a 43-23 lead, but Brownsville rallied in the third quarter to pull up to a 54-42 count. Carrier Mills put on a strong finish, scoring 24 markers and holding the visitors to 12 and make the final count 78-54 in favor of CM.

The scoring: Carrier Mills — VanHoy 12, Williams 4, Shaw 19, Fitts 5, Prather 8, Shelton 5 and Tabor 25.

Brownsville — Vanderbark 24, Weirauch 14, Hale 0, Spence 10 and Fields 8.

Wednesday, Nov. 2, Carrier Mills plays at Muddy. This will be a Midget conference game.

SIU Cross Country Team to Seek Third Win Saturday

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois university's cross country team will be after its third victory in four starts when it entertains Illinois Normal here Saturday morning, Oct. 29.

Southern suffered its first defeat of the season in losing to Eastern Illinois, 22-33, last Saturday. Eastern had the top I. I. A. C. cross country team last year and is favored to win the title again this season.

Establishing himself as SIU's top runner is Bernard Kabot of Waltonville. Kabot in three meets has finished no lower than second. The only one to finish ahead of him at Eastern was last year's I. I. A. C. champion, Chuck Matheny.

Kabot, who is only a freshman, ran the 3½-mile course in 19:21.

Also making rapid progress is Joe Betts, Vernon, who finished sixth at Eastern. Against Normal, SIU Coach Leland P. (Doc) Lingle plans to pick his six-man team from Kabot, Betts, captain Howard Branch, Mounds; Ron Helberg, Blue Island; Bob Kaczynski, Chicago; Bob Orto, Galatia; Sammie DeNeal, Harrisburg; Larry Havens, Carbondale; and Garrison Newsom, Shawneetown.

After Saturday's meet, SIU will be host to the University of Chicago at Southern's Homecoming Nov. 5 and will participate in the I. I. A. C. meet at Michigan Normal in Ypsilanti, Nov. 12.

Chicago's newest electric generating station consumes about 6,500 tons of coal daily, and 80 per cent is delivered by barges.

Another ball carrier expected to cause Eldorado concern is "Butch" Kaha, a 195-pound junior fullback. Last year, as a sophomore Kaha played a deciding roll in Cairo's 20-7 victory over Eldorado. Kaha gained consistently through the Eldorado line and carried for two of his team's three TDs.

Both Tied Benton

Cairo Coach Don "Red" Cross greeted ten lettermen when this current season got underway and has built a good team around the veterans.

One of the strong points of the Cairo team is at the tackles, where Cross had Vets Baur at 230 pounds, Hornbeak at 215, Pittman at 175 and Stevens at 153 to pick from.

Last week Cairo and Benton struggled to a 14-14 tie. This is the same score of the Benton-Eldorado game. Using this one contest as a measuring stick, it would seem Eldorado and Cairo are evenly matched.

Miller scored both Cairo TDs on 17-yard runs in the second and fourth quarters. Cairo picked up 222 yards rushing against the big Benton line and held the Rangers to 99 yards on the ground. First down statistics showed Cairo ahead 13 to 9.

Last Friday Eldorado won over West Frankfort 20-7 to run the Eagle record for the season to three wins, two losses and a tie. Cairo's record is identical.

Lovellette Injured

Eagle Coach Al Adams said Wednesday that he had to juggle his lineup in practice this week as it was very possible that Lovellette would be available for only limited duty Friday evening.

Lovellette, who runs from fullback and plays end on defense, suffered a muscle injury at West Frankfort and hasn't been able to run. If he doesn't play Adams expects to put Ronnie Storke at the fullback position.

Last week Storke took over at the left halfback spot for ailing Acie Gwaltney and picked up 127 yards—a good night's work. Storke is normally an end and the top pass receiver on the team.

If Storke is in the backfield Kingery will start at an end position on offense, opposite Chandler. McClary and Garrett are the tackles, Putnam and Lafoon guards and Heron center. Clark, Potts and Gwaltney will hold down three-fourths of the backfield and the other one-third depends on Lovellette's leg injury.

This is the last away-from-home game for Eldorado. Nov. 4 Eldorado entertains Marion and Fairfield makes a call at the Eagle field Nov. 11.

Holman Floors Billy Smith for 7th Round KO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U.P.) — Heavyweight Johnny Holman of Chicago, who flattened Boardwalk Billy Smith here Wednesday night, began yelling today for a fight with one of the upper contenders next month.

"I'd like to meet Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson or Bob Baker," declared the hard hitter who had floored 34-year-old Smith of Atlantic City, N. J., three times for a knockout at 1:43 in the seventh round of their nationally televised and broadcast bout at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Boardwalk Billy, a deputy sheriff at Atlantic City weighed only 175 1-2 pounds Wednesday night, just one half over the light heavy limit. Holman, 27, scaled 203 1-2. It looked like a man fighting a boy.

Although they went into the ring at "even money," Holman's physical advantages began to tell on Billy in the fifth round of their scheduled 10-rounder. The tiring Billy was staggered near the end of the fifth by a looping right to the head.

Holman floored him twice in the sixth with left hooks for "nine" and for "seven" of the mandatory eight-count when the bell rang ending the round. A booming straight right to the chin stretched Billy flat on his back for the full count in the seventh.

Chicago's newest electric generating station consumes about 6,500 tons of coal daily, and 80 per cent is delivered by barges.

Other games tomorrow night find Fairfield at Carmi, Valier at Carterville, McLeansboro at Metropolis, Eldorado at Cairo, Anna-Jonesboro at Sparta, Chester at Murphysboro, Pinckneyville at Zeigler and Carbondale at Johnston City.

Harrisburg's Homecoming activities start at 7:30 tonight with a pep rally at Taylor Field, at which the identity of the 1955 Homecoming Queen will be revealed. During the halftime of the Friday night game, the Queen and her attendants will be presented to the crowd and the float winners will be announced. The coronation ceremony will be held at 10:30 p. m. at Bonnell gym with the Homecoming dance to be held immediately afterwards.

Korean Girl U. I. Homecoming Queen

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.) — Duck Choo Oh, a 21-year-old Korean girl, today was named University of Illinois homecoming queen.

The sociology major, a senior from Seoul, was elected by vote of the students. She will be crowned Friday night and appear at the Illinois-Purdue homecoming game Saturday.

Named to her court of honor were Bonnie G. Payne, Chicago; Penny V. Walker, Deerfield; Martha Sanford, Champaign; Judy F. Kelch, Chicago; Sally J. Barton, Chicago; Ann F. Mitchell, Granite City; Rosina G. Alexander, Mattoon; Sandy E. Berns, Bloomington; Jan R. Bacon, Crete, and Diane Prentiss, New Boston.

Eagles Face High-Scoring Cairo Friday

Eldorado's Eagles make the long trip down south to Cairo Friday night and will be face to face with one of the speediest, high-scoring football teams in southern Illinois.

Three times this season Cairo has run wild over the opposition. Biggest point making spurge was against Kennett, Mo., to the tune of 66-19. On two other occasions the team neared the half-century mark in point production, wallowing Cape Girardeau, Mo., 45-7 and tromping Metropolis 47-0.

Pacing the Cairo scoring machine is Don Miller, a speed merchant. Last spring in the district track and field meet held at SIU's stadium Miller raced to a second place finish in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Cairo Coach Don "Red" Cross greeted ten lettermen when this current season got underway and has built a good team around the veterans.

One of the strong points of the Cairo team is at the tackles, where Cross had Vets Baur at 230 pounds, Hornbeak at 215, Pittman at 175 and Stevens at 153 to pick from.

Illinois Will Be Outweighed In Purdue Tilt

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Illinois will be outweighed 20 pounds per man in the line and will face one of the nation's best passers in Saturday's Homecoming battle with Purdue, Chuck Studley, Illinois scout, reported today.

"Coach Stu Holcomb has one of the biggest, most powerful lines in the country. The ends are Lamar Lundy, 6-6 and 225, and Bob Rhonele, 6-1 and 207; tackles, Joe Krupa, 6-0 and 244, and Dick Murley, 6-0 and 229; guards, Dick Skubinski, 5-9 and 218, and Bob Clancy, 5-11 and 201. Don Fife at center stands 6-4 and weighs 219. That's real size," Studley said.

In the backfield, much is centered on the all-around ability of Len Dawson, a great passer, a running threat, punter, and place kicker. "He's a fine all-around football player and although occasionally he is stopped, as happened last Saturday, he's still a constant threat to any team."

Lundy is one of Dawson's favorite targets, although Holcomb has been using him quite frequently as a decoy with Dawson's tosses going to Leonard Zyda, a reserve end, and halfback Donn Whitmer.

In addition to Purdue's passing threat, Bill Murakowski, 6-1 and 207-pound fullback, poses a running problem. Murakowski is very strong up the middle. Studley reports, and keeps defenses honest.

"Purdue was a little flat against Notre Dame last week, having played three very tough opponents, Wisconsin, Iowa and the Irish, in a row. That, of course, is no aid to us since the Boiler-makers will be fired for Illinois as always," Studley said.

The game is 37th in a series which dates back to 1890 and will be played before a crowd of 60,000 or more.

Dixie Walker Seeks Job as Pirates' Manager

PITTSBURGH (U.P.) — The Pittsburgh Pirates said today that one of a "dozen" formal applications for the job of field manager for the last place National league team was from Dixie Walker, who ended his long playing career here six years ago to become a successful minor league pilot.

The team's new general manager, Joe L. Brown, said Walker, who had his best days on the field with the Brooklyn Dodgers, had asked consideration for the post left vacant by the firing of Fred Haney on the last day of the 1955 season.

After leaving the Pirates in 1949, Walker managed Atlanta in the Southern Association for three years with his team finishing first, fifth and second.

The former outfielder returned to the majors in 1953 as a coach with the St. Louis Cardinals. The following season he took over the Cardinals' Waco, Tex., farm team and won the Texas league playoffs.

Last season he returned to St. Louis as a coach. When his brother, Harry, was named manager to succeed Eddie Stanky, Dixie went to Rochester of the International league to replace Harry.

Rochester ended up fourth in the season standings, but swept the league playoffs and forced the Little World Series with Minneapolis to seven games.

far and sell it for two dollars," Webb explained, "that is a profit."

BUT THIS DIDN'T: Two woman drivers tried to cross the same spot in the same intersection at the same time. Their cars smashed together, denting fenders.

Before the noise of the crash had died away, a third woman's car had eased into one of the first two cars involved. Almost instantly, the three women were in the street shrilling charges and counter-charges.

An elderly policeman strode into the melee, and after demanding silence, settled the confusion with one simple question, when he said: "Now, I'll hear each woman's version of the accident—in order of your ages. Shall we let the oldest begin first?"

AND NEITHER DID THIS: "It looks like rain," commented the waitress, looking out the window. "Yes," replied the customer, glancing up from his cup, "but it smells like coffee."

Bull Dogs Play Wood River in Homecoming Tilt Friday Night

Contest Will Follow Parade Tomorrow Afternoon

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs go outside the South Seven conference tomorrow night to entertain a Homecoming crowd at Taylor Field.

Opponent is Wood River, a powerful team from the area above East St. Louis. The Oilers have held their last three foes scoreless as they have won the contests.

This contest will follow the annual Homecoming parade which will start at 3:30 p. m. at South Main and Church streets, move around the square, go west on Poplar to McKinley and south on McKinley to Sloan.

Harrisburg's 3-1 mark in the South Seven will be safe this week with a non-conference foe but Coach Lawrence Caluffetti is trying hard to win this one, too, to give the Homecoming crowd a victory and to improve the overall mark (5-1) for the season.

Last week the Bull Dogs lost their first outing of the season to Herrin, 13 to 7, and got some key players injured. So this week Coach Caluffetti has been shuffling his boys around trying to get a winning combination lined out.

To begin with, he is bringing up Donald Biggs and Bob Clark from the Bull Pup squad to be ready at halfback. But Clark has an injured knee and was not practicing last night.

Caluffetti said that Trevor White, a junior, definitely would be one of the starting backs. Freddie McKenzie, halfback with an ankle injury, has not practiced this week and definitely will not be a starter, he added. Jack Wright, whose knee is still giving him trouble, will see limited service.

Everett Evans, stalwart tackle

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Illinois will be outweighed 20 pounds per man in the line and will face one of the nation's best passers in Saturday's Homecoming battle with Purdue, Chuck Studley, Illinois scout, reported today.

"Coach Stu Holcomb has one of the biggest, most powerful lines in the country. The ends are Lamar Lundy, 6-6 and 225, and Bob Rhonele, 6-1 and 207; tackles, Joe Krupa, 6-0 and 244, and Dick Murley, 6-0 and 229; guards, Dick Skubinski, 5-9 and 218, and Bob Clancy, 5-11 and 201. Don Fife at center stands 6-4 and weighs 219. That's real size," Studley said.

In the backfield, much is centered on the all-around ability of Len Dawson, a great passer, a running threat, punter, and place kicker. "He's a fine all-around football player and although occasionally he is stopped, as happened last Saturday, he's still a constant threat to any team."

Lundy is one of Dawson's favorite targets, although Holcomb has been using him quite frequently as a decoy with Dawson's tosses going to Leonard Zyda, a reserve end, and halfback Donn Whitmer.

In addition to Purdue's passing threat, Bill Murakowski, 6-1 and 207-pound fullback, poses a running problem. Murakowski is very strong up the middle. Studley reports, and keeps defenses honest.

"Purdue was a little flat against Notre Dame last week, having played three very tough opponents, Wisconsin, Iowa and the Irish, in a row. That, of course, is no aid to us since the Boiler-makers will be fired for Illinois as always," Studley said.

The game is 37th in a series which dates back to 1890 and will be played before a crowd of 60,000 or more.

who hurt his hand at Herrin and missed nearly all the second half, will be starting this week but Ken Price, the other first string tackle also hurt, will not, Caluffetti said. However, he probably will be suited up.

With Joe Dorris, pass-catching end, out for the season with a broken hand, Bill Henshaw, a junior, probably will team with Jim Williams at the two end posts. Williams also has taken over the punting chores because of Wright's handicap.

After this contest the Bull Dogs get back into South Seven competition, entertaining West Frankfort here Nov. 4 and travelling to Benton for the Armistice Day finale Nov. 11.

The locals will be the only South Seven team not engaged in loop competition tomorrow night. Mt. Vernon will be at Benton, Centralia at Marion and West Frankfort at Herrin.

Benton is expected to beat Mt. Vernon, which would put the Rangers into a tie with Harrisburg at 3-1 in the conference, and Herrin should trim West Frankfort, which would send them out in front with 4-1.

Other games tomorrow night find Fairfield at Carmi, Valier at Carterville, McLeansboro at Metropolis, Eldorado at Cairo, Anna-Jonesboro at Sparta, Chester at Murphysboro, Pinckneyville at Zeigler and Carbondale at Johnston City.

Harrisburg's Homecoming activities start at 7:30 tonight with a pep rally at Taylor Field, at which the identity of the 1955 Homecoming Queen will be revealed. During the halftime of the Friday night game, the Queen and her attendants will be presented to the crowd and the float winners will be announced. The coronation ceremony will be held at 10:30 p. m. at Bonnell gym with the Homecoming dance to be held immediately afterwards.

LIMESTONE LEM SAYS: "Monumentum aere pennius"

(A Monument More Lasting Than Bronze).

The future of posterity depends on your treatment of the soil to-day.

Any time is LIMING time—however, the fall of the year can be most desirable for performing this important job.

LIME APPLIED IN THE FALL HAS A LONGER PERIOD TO REACT with the soil before next summer's vigorously growing crops increase the demand for calcium and magnesium. Adding LIME and fertilizer to new seedlings gets them off to a flying start for maximum production.

Established winter pastures and catch crops and cover crops need an extra shot of LIMESTONE (calcium and magnesium) in the fall. Millions of our acres of pasture and cropland are not producing to their capacity chiefly because their fertility is depleted.

NOW IS THE TIME TO INITIATE THAT LIMING AND FERTILIZING PROGRAM for next year's production and years to come.

YOUR FUTURE DEPENDS ON THE TREATMENT OF YOUR SOIL TODAY. COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE is high in calcium with sufficient magnesium carbonate for any soil. Let:

Ewell Harris
Galatia, Illinois
Ralph Carpenter
Eldorado, Illinois
supply you with COLUMBIA 2200 LIMESTONE to insure your future and those who will depend on the soil you leave them—a monument to you more lasting than bronze.

DRAWING BY LOCAL WOMAN TO BE DISPLAYED AT NATIONAL MEETING—Mrs. Gerald Lane of Eldorado, the former Miss Dorothy Stillel of Harrisburg, and her drawing that will be on display at national assembly of Council of Church Women when it convenes at Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 7. (Register Staff Photo)

Poster by Mrs. Gerald Lane Will Be Used At National Assembly of Church Women

A poster made by Mrs. Gerald Lane of Eldorado, the former Miss Dorothy Stillel of Harrisburg, which was used in a presentation at a recent regional meeting of the Council of Church Women, will be on display at the national assembly of the Council of Church Women. The regional meeting was held in Harrisburg at the First Christian church and Mrs. D. H. Hiller asked Mrs. Lane to make the poster to be used during the meeting. Mrs. Hiller is Harrisburg chairman for the magazine The Church Woman, official publication of the National Council of Church Women. The poster was a reproduction of the frontispiece of the September-October issue of the magazine, showing a field of grain ready for the harvest and in the lower right hand corner is a United Nations stamp. The September-October issue of The Church Woman devoted considerable space to discussing the work of the United Nations and its program of feeding the world. At the Harrisburg meeting was Mrs. J. P. Murphy of Springfield, a state board member, who was impressed with the poster made by Mrs. Lane and wrote to the editor of The Church Woman, Mrs. David Baker of New York City. Mrs. Baker has requested that the poster be displayed at the national assembly of the Council of Church Women at Cleveland, Ohio, when it convenes Nov. 7. Mrs. Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stillel, had three years of art at Harrisburg Township high school and has done considerable work in painting and other phases of art. Much of her work has been for churches and just recently she made five posters that Mrs. Hiller used in a state-wide program for the Baptist church.

Illinois 1956 Primary Election Derbies Begin Taking Shape

By RAYMOND R. COFFEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
SPRINGFIELD — The finish line was more than five months away, but the 1956 Illinois primary election derbies already were taking shape today.

The state ticket entry list included avowed candidates, would-be candidates and not-yet-sure candidates.

The Democratic field was more crowded than the Republican field where administration incumbents expected to run as a "team" have a long head start.

Some of the office seekers were listed as possible candidates for more than one office. For example, State Treasurer Warren E. Wright who cannot succeed himself has said he may file for as many as four offices and decide at the last minute which one to run for.

Here, office-by-office, are the men being mentioned or mentioning themselves for nominations in both parties in the races already taking shape.

GOVERNOR: Republicans — Gov. William G. Stratton, Lar (America First) Daly, Chicago; Judge Sid M. Ward, Benton, and Wright. Stratton has not officially announced yet he is a candidate, but there is no doubt he will be.

Daly has also campaigned for the U. S. Senate wearing an Uncle Sam suit and once volunteered to personally drop a bomb on the Kremlin. Ward's platform is "fire the Democrats" holding state jobs. The only thing wrong with civil service, he says, is that Democrats are permitted to take the examinations. Neither Daly nor Ward is counted a serious contender.

Democrats—Cook County Treasurer Herbert C. Paschen, Cook County Sheriff Joseph Lohman, former National Committee Chairman Stephen Mitchell, State Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna, and State Sen. William J. Lynch, Chicago.

Paschen's candidacy got a lift this week when Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett announced he would not run. Powell also has said he won't run for anything but re-election to the House. Mitchell, Finland became a republic in 1919. For a century or more earlier, it was an autonomous grand duchy of the Russian Empire.

Eliza McCordle was only 17 when she married Andrew Johnson, who later became president of the United States.

An elephant's heart may have a circumference of five feet and weigh more than 60 pounds.

Lynch and Lohman haven't said much of anything lately.

U. S. SENATE: Republicans — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Pekin, is alone so far. He has officially announced his candidacy.

Democrats—State Rep. Richard Stengel, Rock Island; former Sen. Scott W. Lucas, Havana; V. Y. Dailman, octogenarian editor of the Illinois State Register, and Powell again. Stengel says it is too early to say whether he will run but that he has "not decided not to run." Lucas is reported opposed by organized labor.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR: Republicans — Lt. Gov. John William Chapman all alone so far.

Democrats — John R. Asher, state central committeeman from Paris, and Powell. Asher is actively seeking the nomination.

SECRETARY OF STATE: Republicans — Incumbent Charles F. Carpenter and Wright. It is generally believed Wright will set his sights on this office in the end.

Democrats—Michael J. Howlett, Chicago, former campaign manager for Sen. Paul Douglas, is actively seeking the nomination.

TREASURER: Republicans — Elmer J. Hoffman, Wheaton, who held the office previously and is Stratton's candidate for 1956 to fill out the "team" ticket.

Democrats—State Rep. Clyde L. Choat, Anna, and David F. Mallett, East St. Louis automobile dealer. Choate so far has shrugged off suggestions that he might be a candidate. Mallett gave Wright a close race in 1954.

AUDITOR: Republicans — Incumbent Orville E. Hodge, Granite City.

Democrats—Mallett again.

SIU Invites 47 Colleges to Share in Outdoor Education

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois university has invited 47 colleges and universities to share in an outdoor education program.

Schools in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky were invited to join in developing educational camping programs on federal lands near here. SIU already is working on a program of outdoor education emphasizing teacher training for conservation, biological and physical sciences and recreation and camping skills.

The university has camps at Little Grassy Lake for southern Illinois grade and high school students. It also directs camps for crippled and mentally retarded children as well as others at Giant City State Park.

Carrier Mills Groups Busy Planning Third Homecoming

With the Carrier Mills high school's third annual homecoming less than a week away—Thursday and Friday, Nov. 3 and 4—high school and alumni groups are busy with final preparations.

First activity will be a bonfire and pep rally starting at 6 p. m. on the high school athletic field Thursday, Nov. 3. The big day is Friday.

Friday afternoon there will be the parade, headed by the high school band. There will be a basketball game featuring Carrier Mills and Rosiclare in the evening, followed by a dance and the coronation of Homecoming Queen.

All these events are looked forward to with much interest, but of special interest to the alumni are the class parties and other get-togethers.

Many class groups are planning parties, teas, dinners and other social affairs and reports are that large numbers of former CMCHS students have indicated they will be back in Carrier Mills to enjoy meeting with former class mates.

A permanent alumni organization has been formed and an effort made to contact every former student and an invitation extended to return to Carrier Mills for homecoming weekend.

The Democratic Needle

Editorial — BY BRUCE BISSAT Publicly, of course, the Democrats must necessarily assert that they hope President Eisenhower runs again in 1956. You cannot admit that you are incapable of licking the best the opposition can offer.

In the late President Franklin D.
Roosevelt's day, Republicans were always telling everybody that they couldn't wait to "take on the champ." But they didn't really mean it, and neither do the Democrats now.

In their hearts they know how tough the President would be to beat, and no politician wants the test at the polls to be any harder than it must.

The ironic thing is that the way the Democrats are playing it, they might prove to be a considerable factor in Mr. Eisenhower's deciding to have another go.

It is not just that they have taken off the wraps and are attacking the President personally, as wholly responsible for what they consider the damaging acts of his administration.

It is rather that they are goading him with their constant insistence that they alone understand the needs of ordinary citizens and are prepared to do anything about them. Word has it that the President is vastly annoyed at Democratic claims of a monopoly in serving the popular welfare.

This Democratic contention isn't at all new. They've been running against the "special interests" and the "princes of privilege" ever since Mr. Roosevelt's heyday.

The difference is on the other side. Mr. Eisenhower has described himself as conservative in money matters and liberal in the area of human welfare. He is plainly convinced that his administration is executing policies which serve that philosophy.

If the Democrats keep hammering this theme—and such a course would appear almost inevitable—they find themselves with an angry contender on their hands.

A lot of people, including some quite close to Mr. Eisenhower, suggest that his sense of duty will be the final determinant in his decision to run or not to run.

But more than a few men have gone for a second term partly because they felt impelled to try to prove in a second four years the wisdom and rightness of what they did in the first four years.
Pressed hard enough, the President might fall into this category.

Wonder What It Could Be?

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON SAYS:
Dulles Is "Hopeful But Pessimistic" About Geneva; He Promises No Discussion Of Far East At Geneva.

WASHINGTON. — The degree of optimism or pessimism that Secretary of State Dulles has for the Foreign Ministers Conference opening in Geneva today can best be gauged by the private conference he had with congressional leaders just before he left Washington.

Though a statement of confidence was issued by congressional leaders after the Dulles closed-door talk, most of what the secretary of state reported has not leaked out.

Dulles took up most of the time, speaking slowly and precisely, with U. S. Ambassador "Chip" Bohlen sitting in his shadow. Senators got in only a few questions edgewise, and Bohlen, who has been here on consultation from Moscow, kept mum except for answering one or two inconsequential questions addressed specifically to him.

Dulles opened with a report that President Eisenhower was keenly alert, both physically and mentally. Ike not only had approved Dulles' approach to the Geneva meeting but had instructed him to make a personal plea to congressional leaders for their bipartisan support, Dulles said.

The secretary took a hopeful but pessimistic view of the Geneva prospects. He feared, he said, that the conference might get hung on the first item on the agenda, German unification. His hope was to keep the "Geneva spirit" alive and arrange another meeting—at which a more favorable agenda might be drawn up.

New Jersey's Sen. Alex Smith, the ex-Princeton professor, asked whether there was any agreement on Germany. Dulles replied that he was afraid Molotov would demand East Germany be represented before even discussing the problem. Molotov, he said would use the argument that we had demanded Chiang Kai-Shek sit in on

Weed War Costs $4 Billion Yearly

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is one war going on today that never makes the headlines, even though it costs $4,000,000,000 a year.

It's the constant battle between the farmer and the weed.

Weeds are among the most expensive pests farmers have to fight. Annual losses due to the lowly weed are estimated at $4-$5,000,000,000, according to the Manufacturing Chemists Association.

Besides being soil-robbing, weeds are water-pilferers. The average ragweed—the bane of hayfever sufferers—soaks up three times the amount of water needed by a corn plant.

But farmers are getting a scientific lift in the fight. A number of synthetic weed-killers are helping farmers to increase productivity.

One application of weed-killer
2, 4-D, costing about $2.50 an acre, resulted in an Oklahoma rancher increasing forage and beef production by over 50 per cent, the association said.

Chemicals used in wheat-growing land added three bushels more an acre. And in the corn country, use of chemical control has shown increased yields of from 10 to 40 bushels per acre.

It is estimated that the General Sherman, big tree in Sequoia National Park, 1 1/2 ft. in dia. at 600,120 board feet of lumber.

any discussion of Formosa.
DULLES DUCKS FAR EAST

On the ticklish question of the Middle East, Dulles said the State Department was discussing the possibility of asking Russia to guarantee the status quo in that area. He planned to take this up with the French and British before the Geneva conference. If they got together on this proposal, he then planned to broach the idea to Molotov in private discussions.

Here again, Dulles appealed for bipartisan Senate support.

"We must keep the Israeli-Egyptian issue out of politics," he said in a rather condescending manner. His tone brought a smile to the faces of some Democrats.

Dulles promised that after his briefing on the Geneva prospects and the Middle East outlook, he would discuss the Far East. But after he had rambled on and on without mentioning the Far East, GOP Congressman John Taber of New York interrupted.

"Mr. Secretary, I suggest that now would be a good time to hear about the Far East."

Dulles acknowledged the question, but got off on another subject. After a few minutes of more rambling, Taber broke in again:

"Mr. Secretary, I suggest we get on to the Far East."
Again Dulles prepared to talk about the Far East, but again he got off on another subject. Finally Taber stood up and blurted:
"Mr. Secretary, you'll have to excuse me. I've got to catch a train."

He walked out.
Dulles never did get to his promised briefing on the Far East, except to answer a question from GOP Senator who wanted to know whether the Far East would be discussed at all at Geneva. Dulles replied that he would not allow the Far East to be raised at the meeting.

Japanese Professor Says Virile Men Beget Daughters

TOKYO — Marry a fish-eating man, a Japanese professor told women who want daughters instead of sons.

"The more virile and younger the husband," says Professor Hajime Uda of Meiji University, "the greater the chances for birth of a female."

He adds that a survey he took in 10 towns and villages in the fishing villages, where men are well nourished from protein contained in fish, shows the birth tendency is for girls.

"A tired-out, perennially under-nourished husband," says the professor, "tends to beget male heirs much more frequently."

Yap Islanders of the western Pacific still wear loincloths and grass skirts as did their ancestors.

SEARCHING—Margaret Blanche visits the repatriation camp of Friedland, Germany, her husband's name embroidered on her dress. A picture of him completes her way of advertising for the man who is missing in Russia. She feels this is more effective than posting a notice on the bulletin board, the method used by most relatives of missing vets.

Murder in Haiti

by John W. Vandercreek

THE STORY: Bertram Lynch, security officer on Viggo Sand's Caribbean treasure hunting yacht, is investigating the serious injury to the watchman on the yacht. Then he learns of an earlier incident, in which a member of the crew disappeared.

As de Jongh was finishing his little speech, Captain Carey re-entered the lounge and stood with his arms folded just inside the door. I was not even aware that Lynch had seen him until—without bothering to turn his head—he swung his left arm out and backward and peremptorily snapped his fingers.

Startled, Captain Carey glumly took a folded paper from an inside breast pocket, stepped forward and put it in the detective's outstretched hand.

Lynch—as they say of actors—had his audience with him. I saw him run his thumb down the left-hand margin as if he was counting.

"I see, Captain," said Lynch coldly and very clearly. "You have omitted the name of the man who went overboard?"

Carey uttered a kind of grunt. He stared at Lynch with an expression it was difficult to interpret—somewhere between amazement, awe and anger. The only faces which showed no astonishment were those of Reginald Dibble, the young Dutch second mate and the ever secretively smiling Mr. Paul Souhami.

Plainly, Lynch's bold guess was the hottest of hot news to all the rest. Braun looked frightened. Siegfried Meer gaped. Lily Wyndam was regarding me with something very like respect.

At last Lynch twisted around to glare at him. "When it happened, Captain, did you log it? Make any written record or report of any kind?"

"No, and I did not."

"I presume you know, Captain, you could lose your papers by that omission?" Under what Board of Trade, by the way, are they issued?"

Carey seemed to find the answer to this query more embarrassing than the rest.

"Portugal."

Lynch guffawed.

"Well, well, well! Even in Portugal, Carey, you'll find they'll never let you be master of a rowboat if they ever get wind of this. You might begin to remedy it, Captain, by typing out a detailed report. Then have it delivered to Mr. Deane."

Lynch's gray eyes moving slowly from face to face, his chin thrust forward on his crossed arms on the back of the straight chair he straddled, he now addressed us in flat and level tones.

"Since the Vittoria left Southampton this voyage has been marked by three incidents. The stabbing of Herr Braun. The disappearance of the seaman during the Atlantic crossing. Now, this morning, the attempt on Mr. Sand's life and the attack on Wilhelm Heitzig. Those occurrences may, or may not, be connected. Mr. Deane and I will tell you in due time. But there is surely no question in the mind of anyone that they have given this venture a very different complexion."

"Henceforth for our mutual safety there must be no secrets."

"The first secret Mr. Deane and I strongly advise should be brought into the open is the purpose of this voyage."

My scalp was crawling. If Lynch was going to go on he was going to get farther out on a limb than a flying squirrel.

"The cache of bullion and coin which Mr. Sand hopes to recover," said Lynch clearly, "has an official market value of approximately $2,700,000. That is just under a million pounds. On the black market of the Continent it is probable it could be disposed of for a sum more nearly approaching $5,000,000."

"Goody!" said Lily.

"That bullion," declared Lynch for all the world as if he knew, "was put ashore on the island to which we are now going from a German submarine during the closing days of the last war."

Good, shower and clean clothes wrought some improvement. I sought Lynch in Cabin K. Evidently he was expecting me. The base of his table lamp was already swathed in a spare blanket.

"Aren't you the fancy crystal gazer? You ought to wear a turban!"

"Now don't be unfair, Bobby," Lynch was as mild as baby tea.

"Of course, large deductions from scant evidence are a practice I usually abhor. But the risk had to be taken."

"We hadn't any."

"In the legal meaning of the word, perhaps not. Say rather material on which to base deduction. You will recall Dibble's slip about 'two metric tons' of gold? I simply computed that in terms of money. I grant you my surmise about Meer being a submariner was a guess. No more. But consider. This trip and, one must assume, this venture, began in Germany. The three newcomers aboard the Vittoria, the three who appear to have had no previous acquaintance with Sand—Braun, Meer and Souhami—you learned from Miss Wyndam—all joined the yacht at Bremerhaven. Now what 'treasure' of such consequence could possibly have German origin?"

"As the defeat of the Nazis became inevitable you may recall there were persistent rumors that measures were being taken to secrete some portion of the German national gold reserve somewhere abroad. That fund, it was supposed, would be for the use of Hitler himself, or for whatever chieftains of the Nazi party might escape. Its ultimate purpose would be the reconstruction of the Nazi party."

Misnamed

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, was named for a river that does not exist. Spanish discoverers, in 1502, mistook the wide bay for the mouth of a river, which they called River of January, because they came upon it on January first.

Minnesota was the first state in the nation to employ public health nurses for Indians.

SIU to Survey Health Needs in Southern Counties

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Health educators at Southern Illinois university are planning a survey of southern counties to determine health needs, Dr. Donald N. Boydston, chairman of the health education department reported today.

University personnel will work with county boards of the Illinois Health Improvement association in setting up health betterment projects.

"Several counties in the area with health improvement funds available have no program functioning," Dr. Boydston said. "We have trained, experienced personnel who can offer those county health boards survey, counseling and guidance service."

Administrative heads of the Illinois Health Improvement association already have met with SIU officials to outline health improvement objectives and ways of reaching these goals.
